Migration, Human Security, and Human Rights

Call for Applications.

Faculty Research Travel Grants (FRTG)

DEADLINE EXTENDED: ~~May 13, 2024~~

New Deadline: May 31, 2024 ***

Version for University of Arizona applicants

Background

On April 18, 2018, the National Autonomous University of Mexico (UNAM) and the University of Arizona (UA), signed a formal agreement to establish the Binational Research Consortium on Migration, Human Security, and Human Rights (“The Consortium”), which seeks to leverage the two institution’s research strengths and human resources.

The goal is to provide an infrastructure for binational cooperation and collaboration between the Coordinación de Humanidades de la Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México (CH-UNAM) and the College of Social and Behavioral Sciences (SBS-UA) that will strengthen research in migration, human rights and human security. Both institutions recognize the importance of the bilateral exchange of academic staff, researchers, technical specialists, and students associated with CH-UNAM and SBS-UA. To contribute to the consolidation of such collaborative efforts, “The Consortium” will award up to six Faculty Research Travel Grants (FRTG) during the 2024 calendar year, to support mobility in each direction between CH-UNAM and SBS-UA. Each university will award three such grants. Applications must be received by May 31, 2024, to support travel to take place before December 31, 2024.

Faculty Research Travel Grant (FRTG) Objectives

The purpose of travel must comply with all the requirements established in this call for applications and seek to advance the binational research collaboration between UA and UNAM within the focus areas of “The Consortium.” Ultimately, research partnerships should advance binational relationships and activities that lead to the submission of grant proposals to external funding agencies.

Application General Information

These guidelines apply to SBS-UA applicants. UNAM applicants should refer to analogous guidelines for UNAM faculty, available in a few weeks on “The Consortium” UNAM website:

<http://www.consortioarizona.humanidades.unam.mx>

Eligibility Criteria

Faculty from SBS-UA may apply to support collaboration with at least one eligible faculty member from CH-UNAM (See UNAM eligibility criteria in the Spanish version), to develop joint research projects on topics related to one, two, or all three main research areas of “The Consortium.”

Eligible faculty and academic professionals at UA must have at least .50 FTE in SBS, and have appointments that are tenure-track, tenured, continuing status, continuing status-eligible, or career-track with at least 40% research in their standard distribution of effort. Multiple collaborators within SBS cannot receive funds for the same application, and individual applicants can receive only one grant in the 2024 calendar year.

Authorized Expenses

Funding up to $2,500 USD will be awarded for up to three applications led by SBS faculty. Each FRTG can be used to cover the awardee’s transportation, lodging, and per diem expenses.
